The PADI Adaptive Techniques Instructor Specialty course provides PADI Open Water SCUBA Instructors and Freediving Instructors or higher with the qualification to teach this programme which will provide PADI Professionals with practical techniques and approaches when teaching and assisting divers with disabilities. The goals of the course are as follows:

- a) Become more aware and mindful of individual considerations when introducing people with disabilities to diving.
- b) Explore adaptive techniques that can be applied while supervising and training divers with disabilities in PADI courses and programs.
- c) Properly counsel and direct student divers, based on their abilities, toward PADI certification, PADI experience programs, or toward a disabilities dedicated diving organizations.
- d) Learn additional techniques to motivate and encourage student divers with mental and or physical challenges.

This course can then be conducted as a specialty to other professionals and as a subcourse called Adaptive Support Diver that is designed for general divers who want to learn how to support dive buddies who would benefit from these techniques. Course Directors will need to upgrade their specialty rating in order to teach this specialty to Instructors.
